

2016 Heritage Grant Guidelines

Purpose and Scope of Grants Program

The Blue Ridge National Heritage Area was designated by Congress and the President in November, 2003 in recognition of the magnitude and abundance of historical, cultural, and natural heritage assets in Western North Carolina and their significance to the history of our nation. The distinction helps draw national and worldwide attention to our region's rich heritage and encourages the preservation and celebration of our heritage resources.

The Blue Ridge National Heritage Area Partnership's Management Plan calls for preserving, interpreting, and developing the heritage resources of Western North Carolina in five thematic areas:

- Agricultural heritage
- Cherokee heritage
- Craft heritage
- Music heritage
- Natural heritage

These distinctive facets of the region's heritage were the basis for the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area designation in 2003.

To help accomplish the goals and objectives of the Management Plan, the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area Partnership, a 501(c)3 nonprofit, offers matching grants to provide and leverage funding for new projects across the region that preserve, interpret, and develop heritage resources within these thematic areas and that expand economic opportunity.

Of particular interest to the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area Partnership are projects that:

- are regional or multi-county in scope,
- involve active partnerships between organizations,
- leverage substantial matches from project participants and other grantors.

Funds for the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area's matching grants program are provided by the federal government through the National Park Service.

What Types of Applicants Are Eligible to Apply?

The following types of organizations serving the 25-county Blue Ridge National Heritage Area region are eligible to apply for a grant:

- units of state and local government
- federally-recognized Indian tribes
- academic institutions

- non-profit organizations with 501(c)3 or 501(c)6 tax-exempt status from the Internal Revenue Service

BRNHA does not provide grants to individuals.

Applicants may submit no more than one application per grant cycle. Only one project may be proposed in a single application.

What Types of Projects Are Eligible for a Grant?

To be eligible for a grant, a project must meet all of the following criteria:

1. The project must be located in the 25-county region of the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area, which includes the Qualla Boundary. The 25 counties are: Alleghany, Ashe, Avery, Buncombe, Burke, Caldwell, Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Haywood, Henderson, Jackson, Macon, Madison, McDowell, Mitchell, Polk, Rutherford, Surry, Swain, Transylvania, Watauga, Wilkes, Yadkin, and Yancey.
2. The project must fit within one of the grant categories (described in the Grant Categories section). If a project appears to fit within more than one grant category, the applicant should indicate which category is the closest fit.
3. The project must be focused on one or more of the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area's core interpretive themes: Agricultural Heritage, Cherokee Heritage, Craft Heritage, Music Heritage, and Natural Heritage.
4. The grant applicant must provide or secure at least an equal contribution of matches from non-federal sources (see the Matching Contributions section of the guidelines).
5. The grant applicant must demonstrate strong local support by including letters of support from at least three of the following types of entities: arts councils or guilds, chambers of commerce, tourism authorities, historic preservation organizations, land conservancies, community colleges/colleges/universities/schools, state government agencies, regional councils of governments, or local governments.
6. The project must constitute a new activity for the applicant rather than the continuation of an existing program. Expansion of an existing program to serve new audiences and/or explore new content may constitute a new activity.

Please note that BRNHA does not provide grants for the following types of projects:

1. Festivals, concerts, and concert series.
2. Books.
3. Products that are intended to be used primarily as fulfillment tools for fundraising efforts.

Grant Amounts

The maximum grant award is $16,000.

The minimum grant award is $1,000.

As noted above, the grant applicant must provide at least an equal contribution of matches from non-federal sources (see the Matching Contributions section of the guidelines).

Grant Categories

Preservation Grants

Preservation Grants provide funding for the preservation, conservation, and revitalization of heritage sites and traditions in the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area.

Projects must be focused on one or more of the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area's core interpretive themes: Agricultural Heritage, Cherokee Heritage, Craft Heritage, Music Heritage, and Natural Heritage.

Grant funds may not be used to acquire real property or an interest in real property.

Preservation grant projects must fit within one of three grant subcategories:

Preservation of Historic Buildings and Sites: The rehabilitation, renovation, and restoration of buildings, structures, and sites with historical or cultural significance to provide an engaging and educational visitor experience. The buildings, structures, and sites must be listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Properties must be owned by a government entity or a local non-profit organization. Furthermore, the project activity to be funded by the grant must result in a significant interpretive or educational use or visitor experience focused on one or more of the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area's core interpretive themes (Agricultural Heritage, Cherokee Heritage, Craft Heritage, Music Heritage, and/or Natural Heritage). Funding in this subcategory is available for planning and/or implementation. Planning may include consultations and the preparation of master plans, architectural designs, architectural surveys, feasibility studies, or applications for listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

Cultural Heritage Preservation: This grant subcategory includes two types of projects: (1) the development of archival systems, video documentaries, sound recordings, or oral histories which identify and document people, places, artifacts, traditions, and events that have made significant contributions to the agricultural, Cherokee, craft, and/or music heritage of Western North Carolina, or (2) the development and implementation of workshops or other educational programs to transfer knowledge, customs, and skills from tradition bearers to students. Preference will be given to projects which incorporate plans for making the heritage resources accessible to the public. Projects which involve tradition bearers should include appropriate compensation for expenses and services provided.

Farmland and Open Space Preservation: Planning at a municipal, county-wide, or regional scale for the preservation of open spaces and agricultural lands, including those that sustain the integrity of habitats, plant and wildlife populations, forest and agricultural production, water quality, and scenic values. Such projects may also incorporate planning for developing recreational resources associated with open spaces such as parks, community gardens, greenways, non-motorized trails, and blueways. Funding is also available for landscape or watershed restoration activities on sites that are open for public visitation and where hands-on learning and/or on-site interpretation are an integral part of the project.

Interpretation Grants

Interpretation Grants provide funding for development and implementation of public programs, theatrical performances, demonstrations, classes, workshops, tours, videos, sound recordings, guidebooks, websites, and exhibits to educate residents and/or visitors about the agricultural, Cherokee, craft, music, and/or natural heritage of Western North Carolina.

Projects must be focused on one or more of the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area's core interpretive themes: Agricultural Heritage, Cherokee Heritage, Craft Heritage, Music Heritage, and Natural Heritage.

Projects that involve tradition bearers should include appropriate compensation for their services and expenses.

Funds are not available for festivals, concerts, or concert series.

Development Grants

Development Grants provide funding for the marketing of heritage sites and resources and the implementation of programs that provide business planning and marketing assistance to heritage-related businesses and artists. Development Grants can also support facility upgrades at traditional music venues that are managed by a local government or a nonprofit organization.

Projects must be focused on one or more of the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area's core interpretive themes: Agricultural Heritage, Cherokee Heritage, Craft Heritage, Music Heritage, and Natural Heritage.

Grant funds may not be used to acquire real property or an interest in real property.

Development grant projects must fall into one of three grant subcategories:

Marketing: The development, placement, and distribution of promotional materials and media, trail maps, and visitor guides to market heritage events, sites, trails, and attractions. Funds are not available for paid advertising. Preference will be given to projects that market multiple sites or events across county lines. Applicants are encouraged to incorporate sustainable tourism principles and/or messages and environmentally responsible use of media wherever possible.

Marketing and Planning Assistance: the development and implementation of programs, classes, or workshops that provide business planning and marketing assistance to businesses, farmers, craftspeople, musicians, and other tradition bearers interested in earning income from heritage-related activities.

Music Venue Improvements: facility upgrades (such as sound systems, seating, lighting, and dance floors) at traditional music venues that are managed by a local government or a nonprofit organization.

Funds are not available for festivals, concerts, or concert series.

Evaluation Criteria

Grant applications will be evaluated using the following criteria:

- Public benefit. This includes the project's economic impact as well as social impacts, community impacts, and quality-of-life impacts. Also included is the project's potential to promote public understanding and appreciation of the heritage resource(s).
- Significance of the heritage resource(s) to be preserved, interpreted, developed, or marketed.
- Geographic scope of project. Greater consideration will be given to projects that are regional or multi-county in nature.
- Partnerships. Greater consideration will be given to projects that involve active partnerships between organizations.
- Leveraging. Greater consideration will be given to projects with matches that exceed the grant request and/or which consist primarily of cash contributions.
- Quality of plans for implementing and evaluating the project.
- Capability. Evidence of sufficient management and financial ability to complete the project.
- Local support. Evidence that the project has support within the local or regional community.
- Consultation. Evidence that folklorists or historians have been consulted if the project interprets historical or cultural facts.
- Sustainability. For projects that are intended to continue beyond the life of the grant, greater consideration will be given to those that show a strong potential for sustainability.

- Use of local contractors. Applicants are encouraged to use contractors from the region wherever possible.
- Environmentally responsible use of resources. Applicants are encouraged to incorporate environmentally friendly principles, practices, and messages in the design and implementation of their projects wherever possible.

Eligible Project Costs

Blue Ridge National Heritage Area Partnership grant funds may be used to cover project costs that are necessary and reasonable for the accomplishment of project objectives. Such costs may include labor, services, materials, equipment (with a per-unit cost of $5,000 or less), supplies, and travel. Grant funds may not be used to purchase real estate or real property.

The grant application must include a completed Project Budget Form, which provides a framework for itemizing the project budget.

Applicants may include indirect costs in their proposed grant budgets. Indirect costs are costs incurred for a common or joint purpose benefitting more than one project or program (including the proposed grant project) that are not readily apportioned between those projects or programs. Examples may include the costs of rent, utilities, and accounting.

If an applicant has a current negotiated indirect cost rate with a Federal agency, that rate may be requested in the grant proposal. If the applicant does not have a current negotiated indirect cost rate with a Federal agency, the applicant may use a rate of 10% of the direct costs to be charged to the grant. Indirect cost rates may not be applied to the costs of equipment, however. Applicants have the option of not including indirect costs in their grant budgets.

By way of illustration, a grant applicant requesting $9,000 in direct project costs could opt to include another 10% in indirect costs in the proposed grant budget. The total request would amount to $9,900 ($9,000 direct + $900 indirect). In the same scenario, the total match would need to be at least $9,900.

Matching Contributions

To be eligible for a grant, the applicant must provide at least an equal (dollar-for-dollar) match for the proposed project. The match may come from another grant, from the applicant organization, from its partners in the project, or from any combination thereof. All of the match must come from non-federal sources.

The match may consist of real dollars or in-kind (non-cash) contributions of labor, services, materials, equipment, supplies, and/or travel expenses that are necessary and reasonable for the accomplishment of project objectives. Purchases of real estate or real property may not be counted as a match. Overhead and general administrative costs are not acceptable matches (but some overhead and general administrative costs may be included as a grant expense per the discussion of indirect costs above). Donated professional services and volunteer labor may be counted as matches. Real dollar matches are preferred over in-kind contributions. Matching contributions may begin to be made before the date of the grant award, but there must be a significant overlap between the time period of the matching contributions and the time period of the grant award.

All sources of matching contributions must be documented at the time of application. This must include a letter signed by the applicant organization's financial officer or authorized representative which documents the amount of matching funds being contributed to the project budget. Matching contributions that have been secured at the time of application are preferred. If the match is pending (e.g., from another grant application), the application should note the date the match is expected to be confirmed.

Any project funded by a BRNHA grant will be required to provide verifiable documentation that matching funds have been spent and that matching in-kind contributions have been received.

Reimbursement

Grant funds are provided on a reimbursement basis—that is, grant funds are provided only after project costs are incurred and paid for by the grant recipient. To request a reimbursement, the grantee must submit a progress report and documentation of paid expenses and matches, including receipts, paid invoices, and a ledger of expenses charged to the grant. Documentation of in-kind contributions must be itemized to show the amount and value of contributed labor, services, and materials.

If there is a compelling need for advance funds to start the project, the applicant may request a partial advance payment in the grant application. The Blue Ridge National Heritage Area Partnership will consider such requests on a case-by-case basis. Partial advance payments may not exceed 50% of the total grant award. Advance payments that are approved will be made upon signing of the grant agreement.

Grantee Responsibilities – Federal Regulations

Grant awards from the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area Partnership are made with federal funds received from the National Park Service. Because the grant dollars are federal in origin, grant recipients must comply with applicable federal regulations regarding the use and administration of federal funds. These regulations set standards for such administrative activities as procurement and record retention and govern the use of copyrighted work.

Grantees must comply with the Office of Management and Budget's Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (also known as the OMB "Super Circular" or "Uniform Guidance"). These regulations are published as part of the Code of Federal Regulations and can be accessed online at:

In the Uniform Guidance, grantees are considered subrecipients, while the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area Partnership is considered a recipient and a pass-through entity.

Grantees must also:

- Comply with all applicable federal laws including but not limited to Section 106 of the Historic Preservation Act, Secretary of Interior Standards, the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act, the National Environmental Policy Act, and the Americans with Disabilities Act. - Have an audit performed that meets the requirements of the OMB Uniform Guidance whenever the organization expends $750,000 or more in federal funds (cumulatively) during a fiscal year and provide a copy of the audit to the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area Partnership.
- Allow inspection of program records and project by the Blue Ridge National Heritage Area Partnership and authorized federal agencies during the project and for up to three years following project completion.
